Conclusion

- The Bible teaches that we should love and submit to one another out of a reverence for Christ, to love and esteem others better than ourselves, to obey those who have authority over us, and most of all, to submit ourselves under God's authority and His Law because God will resist all who refuse to submit and humble themselves but will only give grace to the humble.

Thank you

God richly bless you
